6. Rule of force majeure:

STKK reserves the right to cancel shows from official wind force of 5 Beaufort on as the risk of overturning will be too high. STKK strives to perform during the dry phases. The bad weather risk is borne 100% by the customer.

At temperatures over 27 degrees in the shade or over 30 degrees in the direct sun, STKK reserves the right to perform one set less.

At temperatures below -5 degrees performances cannot be made, as already the building up of the costumes will not work due to cold and stiff fingers. Whether the performance is possible will be decided by STKK on site.

Even for cancellations due to reasons not mentioned above, which are subject to force majeure, the fee is 100% payable. The customer is recommended to take out an event cancellation insurance.

7. Underground and Solid footing

STKK then starts from the parking lot and uses their car as a climbing aid. A stilt walk starts as soon as the actors get dressed and leave the parking lot.

If it is raining and no wardrobe is available in fixed rooms, the client is obliged to provide a mobile tent (at least 2.50 x 2.50 x 2.50 meters) which can be used by STKK.
